our lifestyle

We're Bryar and Chance, a dynamic duo that has been inseparable since we met in 2018 and tied the knot in October 2023, and we couldn't be more excited for the journey ahead!

Bryar thrives as a logistics manager while also diving into real estate. Chance is an architectural project manager, working diligently toward becoming a licensed builder. Though we embody the saying "opposites attract," it's our differences that truly strengthen our bond.

We pride ourselves on being a happy, loving, and ambitious couple who believes in kindness and giving back. When we're not working, you'll find us spending quality time with family and friends, playing with our adorable dog, enjoying board games, and dreaming up our future together. We can't wait to see where this adventure takes us!

our home and neighborhood

We have a beautiful home in a wonderful, family-oriented neighborhood, and we're in the process of building our forever home in another great area. Our new home will have a big yard and plenty of space for our family to grow. The neighborhood is filled with families and is surrounded by acres of forest land with nature trails throughout. We also have a family lake house in northern Michigan, where we love spending our summer weekends boating, having bonfires, and relaxing. We have a chihuahua named Diego, who's full of personality. He's playful and happy, and he loves to snuggle. He gets so excited to see our nephew, and we know he'll be great at welcoming a baby into our family.

what we love about each other

We love each other for so many reasons, but it's the way we complement each other that stands out the most. Chance's creativity and determination inspire Bryar to dream big, while Bryar's calm and methodical approach helps keep things grounded. We find strength in our differences, and it's these qualities that make us a great match.

What we admire most is how we bring out the best in each other. Bryar's warmth and kindness make our home a welcoming place for everyone, while Chance's loyalty and thoughtfulness create a deep sense of security. Together we're a team, ready for whatever comes our way, and we can't wait to share that love with a little one.

our friends + family

We both come from small families—Bryar has one sister, and Chance is an only child—but we’ve always dreamed of having a big family of our own. We’re super close with our moms, and our families are beyond excited about the baby! We’re lucky to live near Bryar’s mom and sister, so we get to spend lots of time together. We also get to watch our nephew on weekends, and we’re really excited about the idea of him having a cousin to grow up with. Chance’s mom lives a bit farther away, but we still see her a couple of times a month.

Chance has a big extended family with tons of aunts, uncles, cousins, and grandparents. We’re all really close and love getting together for fun adventures like boating, camping, and river tubing. There’s always something fun coming up with them! Our families are super supportive and always ready to help with anything. They’re all so excited for us to start our own family.

our letter to you

As we sat trying to write this, we began to realize how difficult it must be for you to decide who the best fit will be for your baby from a short letter. We want to start off by offering our sincerest appreciation and commending you for your strength and courage as you navigate your adoption plans. We can't begin to imagine how incredibly difficult this choice is, and we can't express what an honor it would be for us to be chosen as adoptive parents for your baby.

Adoption was not a decision we made lightly. We wanted to ensure we were mentally, emotionally, and financially ready to provide your baby with the most loving, nurturing, and secure home possible. The immense support we have received from our family and friends helps to solidify that adoption is the path intended for us to start our family. Since the early stages of our relationship, we have always talked about names and nursery ideas and have envisioned all the future life events that fatherhood would bring. We are filled with excitement and joy that our next journey is within reach and that you will be able to make our dream become a reality.

Your baby will be the center of our entire world, and they will never go a day without unconditional love and support if you choose us. We promise to give the very best for the baby entrusted to us and to do everything we can to make sure they have a life filled with adventures, happiness, laughter, and love. Thank you for considering us, and we hope to be meeting you and your baby very soon!
