about us

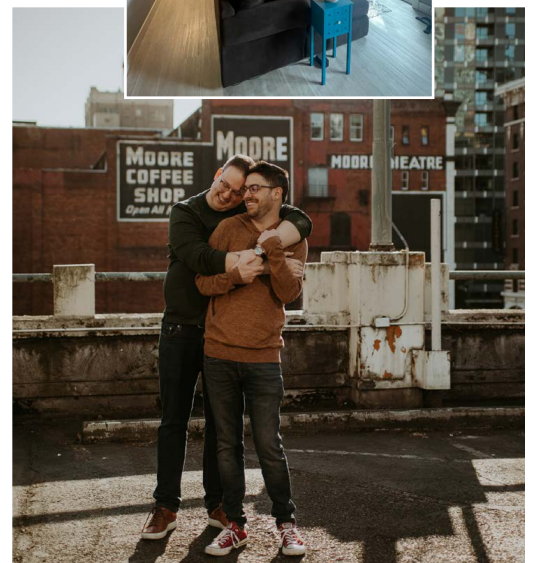

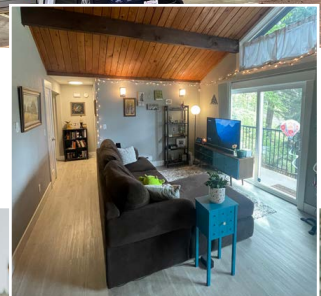

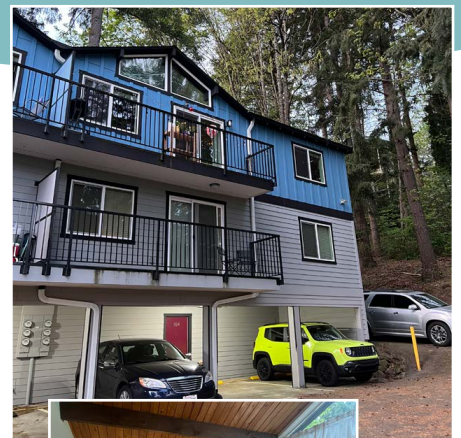

We are Evan and Michael! Our story began eleven years ago, and we have been inseparable ever since. After three years of dating, Evan proposed to Michael at Disney's Magic Kingdom. In 2018 we were married in an intimate ceremony. Evan has always been passionate about helping people, which led him to a career as a pediatric respiratory care practitioner. Michael also works in healthcare as a patient registrar. Evan is kind, caring, and a bit of a goof, always looking to make others smile. Michael is the perfect balance for Evan; he is a planner and a bit more reserved, but he is always up for an adventure. Traveling, seeing movies, and exploring the outdoors are some of our favorite things to do. We treasure spending time with our families, especially playing with our niece and nephews. We look forward to having a child to share these experiences with.

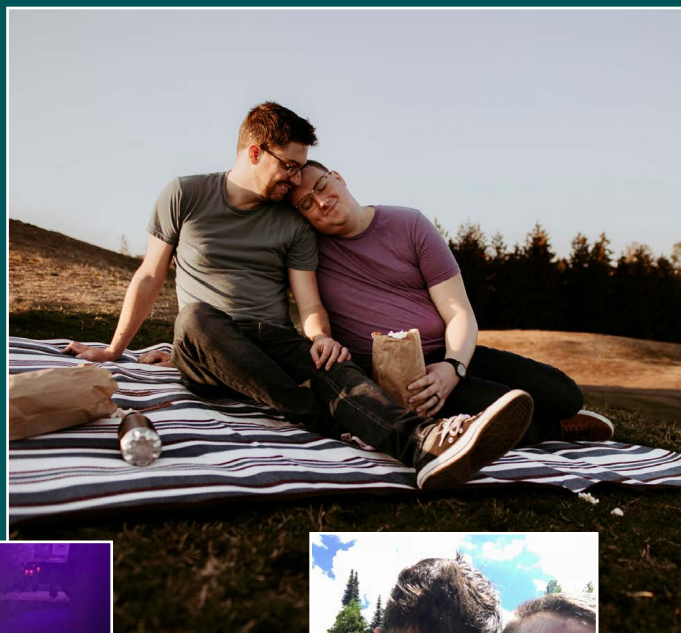

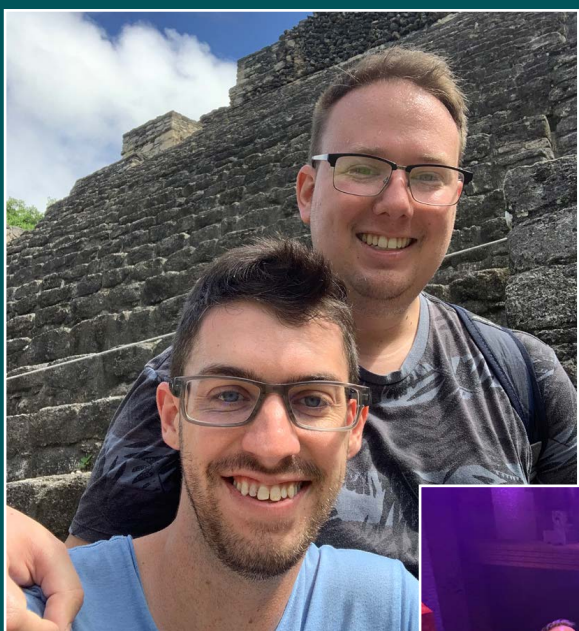

OUR HOME

We live in a homey, two-bedroom apartment in western Washington with vaulted wooden ceilings and a view of the evergreen trees Washington is known for. The school district we are located in is one of the top-rated school districts in Washington State. There is no shortage of parks and other amazing outdoor activities minutes from our home. Conveniently, there is a movie theater right down the road that we cannot wait to take our future children to when they are old enough. There are so many memories to be made here.

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

From the very beginning of our relationship, we knew we wanted to have children to share life's adventures with. Evan has always had a desire to adopt as his mother and aunt were both adopted. He heard and saw firsthand how adoption had blessed his family. Being uncles has been the most amazing and rewarding experience for us and has made our desire to have a family grow even more. After many talks and research, we came to the decision that adoption was the way we wanted to make our dream of having a family come true. We want to give that loving, caring, and supportive family to your baby.

OUR FAMILY and traditions

We are very close with our families. Most of Evan's family live just a few hours away. Evan gets his kind heart and caring nature from his mom and his goofiness from his dad. Evan is very close to his sister and brother. His sister also lives in Washington with her husband and children. Our niece and nephews are so special to us. We love spoiling and playing with them, gaining us the title of favorite uncles.

Michael's family lives in Wyoming. Michael's mom is the most loving person you will meet, and his dad is adventurous, just like his son. His sister also lives in Wyoming. She loves attending concerts and exploring the outdoors. Our baby will be Michael's parents' first grandchild, and they cannot wait to spoil them. Michael's cousin also has a little boy who is excited to have a new cousin to play with.

We love spending time with our family. Evan's family loves to visit Disney and go on cruises. Every summer we are out in Wyoming with Michael's family attending Gold Rush Days, a festival put on by Wyoming state parks. Your baby will have no shortage of love as part of our family.

EXPECTANT MOTHER

To A Loving Mother,

We don't know each other yet, but we already know you are the most courageous and selfless person we will ever have the privilege of meeting. We want you to know how much we will love and cherish this precious gift. We have dreamed of being parents for so long, and just the thought of you considering us to raise, teach, and love your baby unconditionally fills us with such excitement and hope.

Our life is full of so much love, and we want to extend that love to both you and your baby. We are already dreaming of family time spent on vacations and hikes through nature. Both of our families are eagerly awaiting the day when they can love and spoil your baby. Our niece and nephews are already thinking of all the games they want to play with their new cousin.

We want you to know that both you and your baby are already loved so much. This journey will be filled with many emotions, but you won't be alone. We are honored that you would consider us to be there with you through it all. Let's begin making memories that will last forever.

With love,

Evan & Michael
