about us

Hello! Josh and Chris here! Thank you for taking the time to read our profile and consider us as the adoptive family for your child. A little bit about us... We met through mutual friends while living in the Midwest. Though we were four hours apart, we quickly hit it off and planned a weekend together. But then the world shut down due to COVID. Chris's job went remote, and what was supposed to be a first date turned into almost a year of living together. A few years later, we moved to Florida to be closer to family and both landed our dream jobs just a mile apart. Chris is an attorney, and Josh is the executive director of a community health care facility. In our downtime, we love spending time with family and friends, traveling, or enjoying a cozy night in. We're grateful for where we are and excited for what's next!

our home + pets

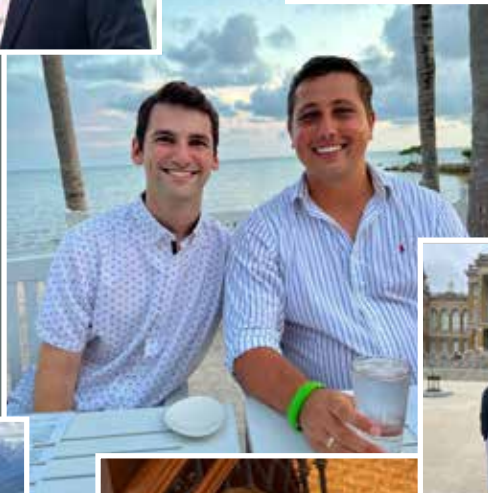

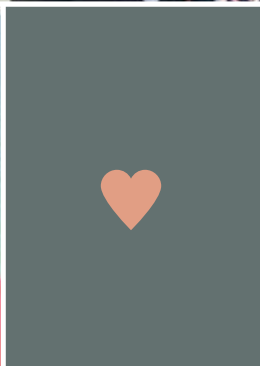

We live on a quiet street, surrounded by young families, and we love how everything we need is just a short walk or drive away, with great restaurants, shops, and even beautiful beaches and parks! Our neighborhood also has a wonderful community space with a pool and playground, making it perfect for kids. We're grateful to be part of such a safe, friendly area with excellent schools. At home, we share our space with Butters and Beans, our playful orange tabby siblings. We adopted them as kittens on Halloween in 2022, and they've been a source of joy and entertainment ever since. We can't wait to see them welcome our future child into the family!

what led us to adoption

We've always been incredibly family oriented, so now that we're married, starting a family felt like the natural next step. The only question was how. After doing a lot of research, adoption feels like the perfect way for us to grow our family. We've been lucky to have such a loving and supportive family around us, and we can't wait to share that same warmth, joy, and care with a child. We're excited about the opportunity to offer a child a safe, loving, and fun home where they can thrive and feel truly cherished. We're ready to share our love and build new memories as a family.

Family is the foundation of our lives, and it's one of the core values that brought us together. We're excited to share the love and support of our close-knit families with our future child. Both of us come from loving families, and our child will be surrounded by a strong network of people who care about them.

Josh has an older brother, a sister-in-law, and an adorable niece and nephew. His parents live nearby, so weekends often include family time at their house lounging by the pool (dodging water balloons from our nephew), watching the Miami Dolphins, or just catching up over dinner. We also have extended family in Orlando, where we enjoy trips to Disney World and Universal Studios.

Chris's family is spread across Florida, Georgia, and Texas. His parents and youngest sister live in Florida, while his eldest sister lives in Texas with her husband and two sweet children. Chris's younger sister and her husband in Georgia are expecting their first child soon, adding to the excitement! Every holiday, the whole family comes together for fun, food, and memories.

With so many siblings and kids in the family, our child will have endless support, love, and fun as they grow up surrounded by their aunts, uncles, cousins, and grandparents.

We can only imagine the many emotions you must be feeling as you make this difficult decision, and we want to thank you for considering adoption. We know choosing a family for your baby is not easy, and we are deeply grateful for the possibility of welcoming your child into our hearts and home.

We've always dreamed of becoming parents, and through adoption, that dream is becoming a reality. If chosen, we will be committed to giving your child a life full of love, stability, and every opportunity they could dream of. Your baby will always know how much you cared and how much love surrounded them from the very beginning.

As parents, we promise to embrace every moment, big or small. They will be surrounded by a family and a community who will uplift them, encourage their dreams, and guide them through life with kindness and respect. We want you to know your child will be loved unconditionally and that your decision to choose us will never be taken for granted.

Thank you so much,

chris + josh
