ABOUT US

Hi, we are Taylor and Zach. We are high school sweethearts and have been inseparable for twelve years. We have been happily married for three years. We consider ourselves to be very outgoing, fun-loving, caring, and adventurous. We are avid travelers, whether that's taking cruises, visiting beaches or snow capped mountains, or camping in our RV. We love the outdoors and getting to spend time together or with our family. We are both college graduates with bachelor degrees, Zach's in business administration and Taylor's in public health. Zach has been in the insurance industry for the past six years, and Taylor has been working in senior living for the past seven years. We are looking forward to taking this next step of expanding our family!

our home + pets

We bought our home five years ago in our Texas hometown where we both graduated from high school. Our home sits on a quiet cul-de-sac minutes from walking trails and a city park. We are also within close proximity to the multiple schools within our school district with state-of-the-art facilities. One of the best things about where our home is located is that we are halfway between both of our parents. We share our home with two pups: Max, our Pomapoo, and Tucker, our mini Australian shepherd.

what led us to adoption

We have always talked about our aspirations of becoming parents, but being a same-sex couple, our options have been limited. We are eager to grow our family and have a lot of love to give. After talking with our close friends and family, we knew adoption was the route we wanted to pursue because what better way to grow your family than to provide a loving and forever home to a child in need?

OUR FAMILIES

We are very family oriented and take the opportunity to spend time with both of our close and extended families. We also have many lifelong friends who are like family that we are forever grateful to share our lives with.

Zach is the youngest son of his parents, having two older brothers. Taylor comes from a blended family, being his mother's only child and sharing his father with two older sisters and one younger brother. Together we share numerous grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, and nieces and nephews.

We enjoy spending holidays with each of our families. Our favorites are Thanksgiving and Christmas. We also look forward to celebrating birthdays, anniversaries, and any other occasions that allow us to spend time with our family and friends.

DEAR

expectant mother

We want to thank you for considering adoption and us as an adoptive family. We cannot begin to understand or even imagine how difficult this decision could be for you. One thing we can say is, we are forever grateful for the possible opportunity to expand our family by providing a loving, caring, and nurturing home for your child. We are excited to be able to share our life lessons and mold a child to be a successful being, instilling the same values we hold true to ourselves.

We have always dreamed of being parents! We look forward to being able to create countless unforgettable memories and creating family traditions of our own. If given the opportunity, our walks at the park and family vacations would forever be changed for the better. One of the most exciting things we think about is seeing our future child's smiling face on Christmas morning as this is our favorite holiday to spend with our family.

We cannot describe the immense amount of gratitude we feel toward you and the decision you are making. We hope to be able to share this journey with you and experience all of the joys parenthood has to offer. We look forward to the many firsts in your child's life, including first words, first steps, first haircut, first days of school, and the list goes on and on. Without you we know this journey would not be possible for us, and we thank you for considering and trusting in us to take this next step in our lives!

With Love,

Taylor & Zach
