ABOUT US

We met almost 20 years ago during college in Pennsylvania. We were always great friends and started dating after graduation. Now we've been happily married for seven years. We have an awesome dog, Charlie, and both work from home. Caitlin is in marketing, and Alex is the head of customer success. We're easygoing and fun-loving people who value spending time with our friends and family. We love doing things together—going to the gym, walking around our neighborhood, taking vacations, golfing, watching movies, and checking out new restaurants. We are so excited to expand our family and make memories together.

OUR HOME + PET

We live just outside a city in Pennsylvania in a family-oriented neighborhood. Imagine lots of playgrounds, baseball fields, and kids sledding in the winter and playing in the sprinklers during the summer. The schools are great and only a few minutes away from our house. Our city is known for sports, museums, and seasonal activities. Our house has four bedrooms and a huge backyard. We love to get ice cream from down the street, swim in the neighborhood pool, and have friends over. We have a ten-year-old English bulldog named Charlie who is sweet and lazy and a favorite of the neighborhood kids.

what led us to adoption

We've always imagined our future with kids. Unfortunately, after a miscarriage and medical procedures, our doctors diagnosed us with unexplained infertility. We'd always considered adoption and feel positive this is the path we are meant to take. We want to be fun, loving, and supportive parents who instill confidence, encourage passions, and give love and happiness. We are so lucky to be in a loving relationship and supported by our family and friends, and we really look forward to this remarkable journey to parenthood.

our family + traditions

We're super close to our families, and we have a huge support system and lots of love that will surround your baby if you choose us.

Caitlin's family lives all over, but we love FaceTime and visit each other multiple times throughout the year. Every summer, Caitlin's parents, two brothers, their significant others, and two nephews head to the beach for a week. In September, we all meet at her parents' house, where the boys play in a golf tournament. It's the best. Our family is big on experiences and making memories. We'll sit around the kitchen table for hours after dinner telling stories and laughing together.

Alex's entire family lives nearby. His mom loves to cook and always drops off her latest recipe. Alex and his dad go to football games on Sunday and golf during the summer. We have fun hanging out with Alex's sisters. Our three nieces and two nephews will be very excited about welcoming a new member of the family. We love getting together to watch our nephew's football games, to celebrate birthdays, and to make s'mores by the firepit.

expectant mother

Hi,

We're excited to meet you! Thank you for learning about us and for considering helping us build our family.

You should know that if you choose us, your baby will be loved unconditionally every step of the way. We promise to support, guide, and love them. They'll grow up in a safe, healthy environment with loving grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends. You will always be a huge part of your child's story, and we will always be grateful for your strength and selfless decision.

We dream of giving a child the experiences we loved most while we were growing up, and we're so excited for the joy and adventure this baby will bring into our lives. Thank you for considering us. We look forward to building our relationship.

With love,

Caithlin + Alex
