OUR JOURNEY TO ADOPTION

about us

We live in the suburbs in Georgia. While Rob is a native of Georgia, Cortney is originally from Maryland. We are an ambitious and fun-loving couple. Rob works as an attorney at his own law firm; Cortney is a speech language pathologist and works for a company that makes communication devices for people who do not speak. We met on a dating app and instantly connected over a mutual love of a short-lived TV show, Deadwood. Our courtship was fast, and we quickly realized we had a similar passion for life! We enjoy going to concerts and museums, traveling, going to unique events and experiences, and taking this life in. On any given week, you can find us at the movie theater seeing a newly released movie on a Thursday, at the live theater on Friday, and maybe at a concert over the weekend.

OUR HOME + PETS

We live in a safe, thriving, suburban community northeast of Atlanta with great schools. In our little neighborhood, there are many children and a small park. We live close to several county parks and the local elementary school. We have five dogs. The oldest are our Golden Retrievers, Toby and Charley. The other dogs are a German Shorthaired Pointer named Frank, a Border Collie named Max, and a Great Dane puppy named Lykke (pronounced Like-uh). We also have two bunnies named Attila the Bun and Bunhilda (we call her Hildie).

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

We knew building a family would be a journey due to a medical condition Cortney experienced several years ago. We tried IVF and were unsuccessful after several attempts. Despite this challenge, we still have a lot of love to give and a desire to build a loving, caring, and supportive home for a child. We believe families are built by love, not just biology. We look forward to nurturing a child's talents, sharing new and unique experiences in this world, and loving a child. When we met with the team at LifeLong Adoptions, we felt this was where we were meant to be to build our family.

AND TRADITIONS

Cortney's family lives in Maryland and includes her mom, dad, brother and sister-in-law, and sister, along with several cousins and two nieces. We typically visit them three times a year (once in the summer, at Thanksgiving, and at Christmas). We love making an overnight breakfast casserole to eat after opening gifts on Christmas morning and baking Christmas cookies. We always have a traditional crab feast during the summer. We love listening to music and playing board games after dinner.

Rob's extended lives in the Atlanta area, consisting of his stepfather and a sister and her partner and their three children (one nephew and two nieces). Rob also has several cousins, aunts, and uncles who live in the Atlanta area. We enjoy taking our nieces and nephew to the movies, haunted houses, and other social events around Atlanta. We enjoy getting together throughout the year but especially on holidays such as Fourth of July for barbeque and fireworks.

DEAR

*expectant
mother*

Neither of us knows what it is like to be in your position. The decision to pursue adoption for your baby is no doubt heart wrenching, but please know we are in awe of your strength and bravery while considering this difficult decision. We are incredibly grateful that you would consider us to care for, love, and support your baby as they grow.

We know adoption will completely change our lives. It is a journey we are excited and thrilled about. We are honored you are getting to know us more. If chosen, we can promise you your baby will always be loved and nurtured in our house. We look forward to sharing our love of movies, art, music, and local adventures with your baby. We cherish the opportunity to help your baby grow into a confident and kind person. Our families are equally as excited about the possibility of welcoming a child into their lives. They will also love and dote upon your baby as part of our family.

Thank you for considering us. If you decide to select us, please know your baby will become our number one priority and focus. We will do all we can to keep your baby safe, happy, and healthy.

WITH LOVE

Rob and Courtney
